

Volunteer to mentor the next generation of leaders!

Give Back

This skills-based volunteering opportunity offers a second-to-none way to impart lessons you fought hard to learn to students.

Develop Your Skills

You'll hear from the incredible speakers and presenters WBW brings to students, while also developing your skills as a leader and a facilitator, through WBW's mentor training.

Create an Impact

Students remember their Company Advisors (CA) decades later. You can help shape a student's story. Inspiring them to achieve or teaching them a lesson they'll never forget.

Make Change

Help students make connections and learn lessons that will get them far ahead in their careers and play a role in changing the face of tomorrow's board room.

Build Friendships

Working closely with a team of other Company Advisors, you'll be surprised how quickly you make deep friendships and lasting friendships with other professionals.

"Washington Business Week became a core part of the emerging leadership program I ran for more than a decade, teaching my employees more effectively than almost any other program."

- James Garnett

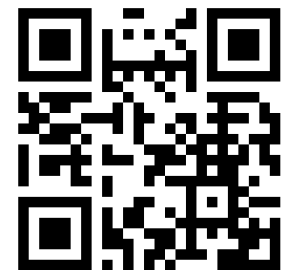

"By Friday, when I was reflecting on the best moments of the week, I started crying because not only did I see the impact I made on [my students], but they truly made an impact on me."

- Jade Yee

"Some of the best friends I've made as an adult have been through being a Company Advisor."

- Darby Vigus

Northwest University	Kirkland, WA Near Seattle	Jul 13 - Jul 18 Overnight
Eastern Washington University	Cheney, WA Near Spokane	Jul 27 - Aug 1 Overnight
Renton Technical College	Renton, WA Near Seattle	Aug 18 - Aug 22 Day

Learn More:
wbw.org/ca